

Welcome!

Congratulations on your engagement, and thank you for considering Steckle Heritage Farm for your first day of forever!

Steckle Heritage Farm is an educational working farm, preserved as a not for profit charity organization by the late Dr. Jean Steckle. Dating back to 1833, the 10acre homestead has been very fortunate to retain many original buildings, and all of its rustic charm. Our bank barn is breathtaking to enter as you look up at the glorious post and beam construction with hand hewn logs. The sunlight streams through the barn board as the sun sets in the west, making for a magical setting with the globe lights strung along the beams and over the dancefloor.

We are unique, in that Steckle Heritage Farm truly is a farm within the city. Located just minutes from downtown, there are very few venues that compare to our own. This heritage designated site hosts community events and educational youth programs, and is so happy to share the beauty of this landscape with others for the most significant day of their lives.

The income generated from each wedding goes directly into the maintenance and operation of this beautiful site. Thank you for supporting our future!

Yours Truly,

Thadeus Zebroski
Executive Director
